R&R | Section 1.0 | Introduction to the Rules and Regulations

In order to live harmoniously in a close community, it is necessary to have rules. Please keep in mind that each one of these rules is necessary in order to make your day to day life and the day to day lives of your neighbors more pleasant and enjoyable.

By observing these rules, all residents of the Glenwood North community will have the benefit of living in one of the most pleasant and appealing townhome communities in the region. The following rules were adopted by your Board in accordance with the provisions of Article 8, POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS) Section I.a) of the Bylaws to adopt and publish rules and regulations governing the use of the Common Areas and facilities and the personal conduct of Owners and their guests thereon and in the community. Your Board unanimously approved the following rules.

Section 1.1 | How do Rules and Regulations relate to other HOA documents?

Glenwood North is governed by a series of documents. The series of documents are often referred to as the Governing Documents. It is up to the elected HOA Board to interpret the documents, and apply the interpretation to Glenwood North, using legal assistance as needed. The Governing documents can be changed, but the changes are a difficult process. The Governing documents include:

- The North Carolina Planned Community Act.
- The Articles of Incorporation of Glenwood North Townhome Association, Inc.
- The Declaration of the Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions for Glenwood North (DCCRs)
- The Supplemental Declaration of the Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions for Glenwood North (DCCRs).
- The Bylaws of Glenwood North Townhome Association, Inc.

To clarify interpretation, the HOA Board may create, update, modify and announce Rules and Regulations at any time. The rules and regulations work in conjunction with the Governing documents. Occasionally the rules and regulations could accidentally conflict with the Governing documents or external laws. In these cases, the order of precedent is as follows:

- Federal, State, County, and Municipal laws have the highest priority.
- The Declaration of the Covenants has the second highest priority.
- The Bylaws have the third highest priority.
- The Rules and Regulations have the lowest priority.

Section 1.2 | Enforcement

The Rules and Regulations are authorized to specify specific enforcement within sections, or may use the general enforcement provisions as outlined in the Glenwood North Bylaws, Article 8, Section 1: Powers (b). Following a Due Process Hearing, the HOA Board may use the following enforcement options:

- Impose monetary penalties.
- Suspend an Owner's rights as a Member of the Association, including voting rights and rights to use any Common Area facilities on the Common Area, for any period during which any fine against such Member or any assessment against such Member's Lot remains unpaid.
- Suspend an Owner's rights as a Member of the Association for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days for any infraction of the Rules and Regulations.
- Enter any Lot, at reasonable hours, after forty-eight (48) hours' notice, in connection with any required work affecting the community. In the event of emergency threatening injury to persons or property, or reasonable cause to believe there is such an emergency, the right of entry shall be immediate and may be exercised without notice.

Section 1.3 | Reporting document errors or suggesting changes

Changes may be suggested to the Rules and Regulations by contacting the proper committee or the HOA Board.

Section 1.4 | Exceptions

Occasionally exceptions may be granted especially for Rules and Regulations regarding the exterior of homes, or landscaping. If you would like an exception please reach out to the Architectural Control Committee (ACC), the HOA Board, or the property management company.

R&R | Section 13.0 | Home Repair and Maintenance

Home repair and maintenance is a combined effort between the Home owner and the association. Historically, the HOA has deemed it the responsibility of the owner to perform repairs between maintenance cycles, unless the repair falls under very specific conditions. Builder defects, changes in the building code, and other factors that force owners to maintain their property has been deemed to be the owner's responsibility and not the HOA responsibility. This approach was adopted to reduce overall repair costs within the community, and lessen the overall cost of assessments. For specific information:

- DCCRs | Article 6 | 6.01. Maintenance by Association.
- DCCRs | Article 6 | 6.02. Maintenance by Owners.
- DCCRs | Article 6 | 6.03. Negligence.
- DCCRs | Article 11 | 11.01. Damage to Lots.

All homeowners are required to carry general warranty insurance, and are responsible for the insurance of their home. Optional coverage's are up to each owner. Pest control is up to individual homeowners; however, the HOA felt that an annual policy for termites was in the best interest of all owners and has such a policy in place.

In general terms, the HOA Association has defined "exterior building surfaces" to mean the siding and trim of a home. Home sheathing, water permeable surfaces, and other building features behind the siding are the responsibility of the homeowner; unless, a siding replacement project is in process. In cases where the siding is damaged such that it must be replaced between maintenance cycles, the HOA will perform repairs, unless the damage was due to homeowner actions. Siding that is cosmetically damaged, but fully functional will not be replaced between cycles.

Porch and deck maintenance will be performed by the HOA during the maintenance cycle. If a flashing concern is found between maintenance cycles, the HOA will only address the flashing. All damage due to delays in notice or affecting building materials other than trim, flashing, and similar are the responsibility of the homeowner.

The HOA is responsible for all roofs, roof fittings, chimneys, roof piping, and similar, unless specific conditions are met where the homeowner has either made a change to the roof or has created a situation where the roof has been damaged.

Building flashing is not clearly defined within the governing documents, such that the HOA has determined the following policy. If the flashing is around doors or windows, where the homeowner is clearly responsible, then the HOA will not perform repairs. If the flashing is around an exterior surface, away from doors and windows then the HOA will perform repairs to the flashing. Any damage to other surfaces due to delayed reporting of the damage or failure of the siding is the homeowner’s responsibility.

Any damage caused by homeowner actions will be the responsibility of the homeowner to repair.

For situations where water enters the home, the homeowner is responsible from the water meter to the home, and within the home. The HOA and the City or Raleigh take responsibility from the water meter to the utility. For homes that have sprinkler systems installed, the HOA is responsible for ensuring the sprinkler system is operating and free of leaks; however, is not responsible for any damage to the home if the system should have a failure.

For sewer lines, the homeowner is responsible for the lines up to and including the exterior clean outs. The HOA and the City or Raleigh take responsibility for the sewer lines after the clean outs.

For electrical and other easements, the HOA is not involved. The proper utility is responsible for maintenance of their easement.

The annual FSP (Fire Sprinkler Protection) assessment charge shall be determined as part of the overall Glenwood North budget. Generally speaking, lots on Springerly, Braidwood, Matterly, and Longoria were all built with back flow preventors.

All Lots with a back flow preventor are responsible for the annual FSP assessment. The City of Raleigh master list shall be used if there is any concern.

Glenwood North Rules and Regulations

Owners are responsible for scheduling the annual inspection, once the Glenwood North HOA announces the vendor and inspection time period. The Glenwood North HOA is responsible for repairs to the back flow preventor and Fire Sprinkler Protection system, including the water lines and associated hardware. The Glenwood North HOA is not responsible for any damage associated with issues with the Fire Sprinkler Protection system. Individual homeowner insurance policies or homeowners are responsible for any damage associate with issues surrounding the Fire Sprinkler Protection system. Glenwood North shall not be responsible for any damage for Lots that have refused the annual inspection.

R&R | Section 14.0 | Exterior Landscaping Changes and Uses

The following Rules and Regulations apply to the exterior landscaping around homes. Generally speaking, most significant changes require Architectural Control Committee approval; however, changes that are minor in scope, do not affect the look and feel of the home, or do not transfer with the property do not require approval. Further, due to the popularity of certain changes, the HOA Board has pre-approved a group of changes that homeowners may perform without ACC approval.

Section 14.1 | Homeowner Landscaping Responsibilities

Per the Governing documents, it is the responsibility of each homeowner to maintain the landscaping immediately surrounding their home. Maintenance includes watering the grass, trees, shrubs, and other plants or landscaping.

Additionally, no disturbance of any creeks, storm water detention areas or landscaping areas located within the Common Areas shall be permitted.

Section 14.2 | Approved Landscaping Changes

Glenwood North Townhomes Association encourages its homeowners to accent their homes with landscaping elements. Landscaping around the home can add a personal touch and increase the value of one's home. The association allows the following without Architectural Control Approval.

- Small, welcome flags or college/sport team flags.
- Standard size, home mounted flags.
- Annual flowers that complement the foundation plantings.
- Small bushes and shrubs that complement the foundation plantings.
- Small potted flowers and shrubs where the pots do not exceed 18 inches tall or 18 inches wide.
- Potted fruits and vegetables (e.g. tomato vines) where the pots do not exceed 18 inches tall or 18 inches wide, and are kept in the rear of the building.

Section 14.3 | Holiday Lights and Decorations

Holiday lights and decorations are allowed in Glenwood North, such that the following conditions are met.

- Holiday decorations must meet all of the conditions listed for plantings, such that the decorations do not infringe on walkways, home access, driving visibility, emergency vehicle access, and other listed conditions.
- Holiday lighting and decorations must be removed within 14 days of the holiday event.

Section 14.4 | Fencing

Glenwood North allows a limited amount of personal, privacy fencing. All fencing requires approval by the Architectural Control Committee. The following restrictions apply, and shall not approve any fencing that does not meet the restrictions:

- Fencing may not exceed five (5) feet in height.
- Fencing may not extend onto common property in any form.
- Fencing must be white in color, and fit the general appearance of the existing fencing within Glenwood North.
- Chain link fencing is expressly prohibited.

Section 14.5 | Banned Landscaping Changes and Restrictions

The Governing documents have been interpreted as to ban the personal landscaping. Unless clearly noted, the Architectural Control Committee may not approve any of the following items. The Association reserves the right to remove any planting without notice.

- Homeowner planting may only be done on homeowner owned property.
- Plantings and other changes must be placed a sufficient distance to accommodate their full growth potential. Owners may not block walkways in any manner.
- Any and all landscaping changes must retain a 12 foot clearance from the center of any road, access road, or alleyway and may not block vehicle access in any form.
- Repair costs caused by climbing plants or vines, or other landscaping that damages exterior surfaces shall be borne by the home owner.
- Ground planted, vegetable gardens are not permitted in Glenwood North.
- Owners may not install outdoor dog pens or runs.

R&R | Section 15.0 | Landscaping Repair and Maintenance

Landscaping repair and maintenance is a combined effort between the Home owner and the association. Historically, other than the efforts of the landscaping company, the HOA has deemed it the responsibility of the owner to perform landscaping maintenance functions. Over the years, individual owners have added landscaping outside of the Association supported plant varieties. Issues or concerns with plants outside of the Association supported varieties are up to individual owners to maintain, and the association does not take any responsibility for the plantings.

Section 15.1 | Landscaping Repair and Maintenance Matrix

The following charts were created to assist owners in the levels of responsibility.

R&R | Section 16.0 | | Architectural Control Committee Change Requests

Unless specifically stated as allowed or as banned, all other requests require Architectural Approval. The size and scope of the approval process is dependent on the size and scope of the change.

The form for Architectural Change Requests is available on the web site. Once submitted, you should hear back within 30 days. Any changes that are denied may be escalated for a second review at a monthly HOA Board meeting.

To complete an Architectural Change Request, visit the following:

<https://glenwoodnorthtownhomes.nabrnetwork.com/home.php>

<https://glenwoodnorthhoa.com>

R&R | Section 17.0 | Volunteer and Committee Requirements

Volunteers and committee members are crucial to ensuring the HOA is able to meet all of the needs within the community. It is up to the HOA Board to allow and encourage committee's and volunteers; however, it is the inclusion of every resident that helps to make the community great.

For a Committee to be recognized, several key items are important. An active committee must meet at least once a quarter, announce the meeting to the home owners in advance, and take minutes from the meeting. Each committee should have a committee chair (responsible for organizing the committee) and a Committee Sponsor (HOA Board member who the committee can turn to for support). And, prior to taking any significant action, committees must ask for HOA Board approval.

Committees may have multiple sub-committees or operate as a single unit. Committees may empower any individuals as needed to reach their goals. Using the website, committees will be able to announce activities, store documents for public review, and take advantage of automated comment delivery to the members.

Section 17.1 | Committee Member and Volunteer Qualifications

Any owner, tenant, or resident who is in good standing may volunteer and/or be part of a committee.

- Tenants are residents are welcome to volunteer and join committees; however, they may not vote on issues or hold committee Chair positions.
- Any community individual who publicly acts such as to reflect an appearance as representing the Glenwood North Community must be a Glenwood North HOA recognized volunteer or part of a Glenwood North HOA Committee.

R&R | Section 18.0 | Monthly Board Meeting Process

After election, the HOA Board may set the dates, times, and processes for HOA Board meetings. Traditionally, the HOA Board has held a meeting once per month, in each and every month; however, each HOA Board may adapt the meeting schedule to their availability.

Section 18.1 | HOA Board Meeting Process

Historically, HOA Board meetings have had an Open Forum session for owners to bring topics to the HOA Board, followed by the HOA Board meeting. If needed the HOA Board may call for an Executive Session for the HOA Board.

Per the Governing Documents, HOA Board meetings must be announced in advance. It is not required that topics be announced in advance.

18.1.1 | Open Forum

Historically, the Open Forum is an opportunity for owners to address the HOA Board; however, the Governing Documents do not require an Open Forum. Owners may attend the Open Forum and bring up topics as needed. It is recommended that owners whom wish to have information available, request time at the Open Forum through the web site, and attach a description, diagrams, pictures, or other items as needed.

18.1.2 | HOA Board Meeting

The HOA Board Meeting is open to all owners to attend. During the meeting, owners are technically unable to be actively involved; however, it is up to the HOA Board to determine the level of interaction desired.

18.1.3 | HOA Board Meeting Executive Session

If, and only if, the HOA Board addresses sensitive issues, limited to Delinquent Owner Review, Violations Review, Attorney and Legal Concerns, and Personnel Issues, then the HOA Board may vote to move to Executive Session. Only HOA Board Members, Legal Representation, and the Property Management Company representatives are allowed in the Executive Session. No topics other than those listed previously are allowed in Executive Session. All items to be addressed in the Executive Session must be announced in the HOA Board Meeting, prior to the vote for Executive Session.

R&R | Section 21.0 | North Carolina right to Prelitigation Mediation

Section 21.1 | Prelitigation Mediation Process

In accordance with the State of North Carolina, any homeowner may use the following process to invoke prelitigation mediation:

1. In the event of a dispute, the association or owner may contact the N.C. Dispute Resolution Commission or the Mediation Network of North Carolina for the name of a mediator or community mediation center.
2. The mediator must contact the other party, who can decline mediation. Mediation is a voluntary process.
3. If both parties wish to mediate, the mediation must be scheduled within 25 days.
4. Regardless of whether mediation resolves the conflict, the cost of mediation (including the mediator's fees) is shared equally between the parties unless agreed otherwise.

Section 21.2 | Prelitigation Mediation Limitations

In accordance with the State of North Carolina, homeowners using prelitigation mediation have the following limitations:

- The time periods relating to the filing of a civil action, including any applicable statutes of limitations or statutes of repose, shall be tolled upon the initiation of mediation until 30 days after the date on which the mediation is concluded as set forth in the mediator's certification.
- Statutes of limitation and repose give finality to disputes by setting the date by which a lawsuit must be filed.
- If an owner has a potential claim against his/her association (or the association against the owner) and the deadline for filing a lawsuit is near, initiating mediation would extend any deadlines throughout the mediation process.

Section 21.3 | HOA Prelitigation Mediation Obligations

In accordance with the State of North Carolina, The Glenwood North Home Owners Association must support prelitigation mediation in the following manner:

- While mediation is voluntary, the statute mandates that associations notify members each year of the right to initiate mediation.
- The law provides that the notice should be published on the associations website, and if there is no website, the forwarded with the names and addresses of association officers and board members as required by NCGS 47C-3-103 and 47F-3-103.
