DESCRIPTION	AMOUNT
Porch lift using poly foam jacking technique. This porch has issues with soil erosion. Erosion has caused the concrete porch pad to settle over an inch. We just drill through the concrete slab small holes, inject expanding high polymer foam through the holes and finally fill the holes with concrete. Concrete Uprising will use poly injections to lift and stabilize the slab.	1,200.00

Concrete Uprising warranty starts the day of the installation (provided full payment has been received) and extends for a period of 2 years. The warranty is limited to the injection areas of the install and the recovery achieved during that install. Concrete Uprising's warranty is transferable if the parcel is sold during the warranty period. Concrete Uprising's warranty does not cover any future damage to the concrete slab or surrounding area that has been repaired.
Thank you for choosing Concrete Uprising!
